

DAWSON TO ELECT NEW STUDENT COUNCIL IN MARCH

Veterans' Society Backs Presentation of Brief To Ottawa Authorities

Students Reject Executive Stand On Kurt Meyer

A unanimous vote of thanks for the work done by the executive of the McGill Student Veterans' Society was expressed by the attending Veterans Body of McGill yesterday afternoon in the ballroom of the Union. This was followed by a vote rejecting the executive's protest of the commutation of Kurt Meyer's sentence.

Len Starkey, president of the M.S.V.S. and National Conference of Student Veterans, gave a full report of the National Conference of Student Veterans, held at the University of Montreal on December 27, 28, and 29, 1945. The president outlined the background of the Conference where twenty-nine educational institutions, of which twenty-six were universities and three were vocational training schools, were represented by sixty-three delegates at the Conference.

PANEL BRIEFS DISCUSSED
A feeling of unity prevailed throughout the three day conference. And panel briefs concerning the three main topics were discussed at great length, namely financial problems, the housing situation, and the extension of educational facilities. As a result of the various resolutions adopted at the Conference, a detailed brief was presented to W. A. Tucker, chairman of the House of Commons Committee on Veterans' Affairs in Ottawa.

Report on the trip to Ottawa and the presentation of the brief concluded Len Starkey's report.

HOUSING PROPOSALS
John Switzmann reviewed the various proposals on housing which included, use of Government owned buildings, the inauguration of Student Cooperatives and Control of board rates and room rentals.

Don Love outlined the Educational Facilities of the brief namely, the provision of adequate facilities, post-graduate studies D.V.A. liaison officers, and the resumption of training after failure.

FINANCIAL PANEL
The outline of the brief was concluded when Jack Pierce reviewed the Financial Panel of the Conference, specifying increase in allowances, $20.00 per month for single veterans—and a $40.000 per month for married veterans. This increase to apply equally to university students and those receiving Vocational Training. Copies of briefs were distributed to the attending Veterans.

KURT MEYER
The resolution presented by the executive, protesting the commutation of Kurt Meyer's sentence.

Continued on Page Four

CUP WIRES

Toronto: A survey of housing required by married veterans for the coming summer and fall is to be made by the executive committee of the students administrative council. On completion of the survey plans will be presented to the Board of Governors for obtaining adequate housing to relieve the present pressure.

Toronto: Sonny Dunham well known American orchestra leader and trumpet virtuoso will be featured with his band at Varsity's Arts Ball taking place in the Convention Ballroom of the Royal York Hotel this Thursday. As an alternative band Bobby Gimby well known Canadian trumpet ace will perform. In the Banquet Hall the newly formed Casa Loma band under Art Hallman's direction will supply the music.

Dr. R. P. Vivian Will Discuss Social Medicine

Mothers and Children Is Subject Tonight Of Inaugural Address

By BETTY BREWER

One important aspect of the field of modern medicine is to be the topic of the inaugural lecture of Dr. R. P. Vivian, to be delivered in Moyse Hall today at 8.30 p.m. His address, entitled "Mothers and Children", will touch on one aspect of Social Medicine, of which Dr. Vivian has recently been appointed Professor at McGill.

His appointment as Professor in this course, which is a new one in the Faculty of Medicine, comes as a result of 17 years' service as a general practitioner and, more recently, his administrative experience as Ontario Minister of Health and Public Welfare.

"Social Medicine" is not to be confused with "socialized health services," Dr. Vivian explained in an interview with The Daily yesterday. "It is a medical science in relation to groups of human beings." He went on to explain that many people do not differentiate between the two ideas, which causes some confusion. The newly instituted course at McGill is not the study of socialism and medicine, but rather, a study of the causes and cures of disease among mankind at large.

In a recent address, Dr. Vivian outlined the progress of Social Medicine. The original programs of the Public Health Service were mainly concerned with sanitation, subsequently communicable disease control and, fairly recently, with the hygiene of pregnancy and childhood," he stated. "This gradual change exemplifies the progress from a control program to a preventative one."

He continued by outlining the need for a good public Health Service and the difficulties met in (Continued on Page Four.)

CUP Institute of Student Opinion Distinctive Canadian Flag Needed; Would Include Union Jack

A CUP Feature Conducted by The Queen's Journal

KINGSTON—The great majority of Canadian university students feel Canada should have a distinctive flag, but want it to include the Union Jack.

This was shown in the first survey taken by the newly-organized Canadian University Press Institute of Student Opinion. The results, however, are not all-inclusive, since 11 of CUP's 18 members failed to report.

Students at the seven universities which participated were asked the following question, with results as indicated:

"Do you favour a distinctive flag for Canada?"
Yes 78.4%
No 16.7%
Undecided 4.9%

Those who supported the idea of a special Canadian flag were further asked:

"Should this new flag contain the Union Jack?"
Yes 65.2%
No 30.4%
Undecided 4.4%

Individual breakdown of these overall figures reveals that University of Ottawa is 100 percent, behind the Government's proposal to adopt a national flag. Of this number, only 79.2 percent, think such an emblem should contain the Union Jack.

Statistics at University of New Brunswick show sharp contrast. Of the 60 students approached, only 50 percent, wanted to see Canada obtain her own flag.

Students at Queen's University are decidedly in favour of a new emblem: 71 percent, replied "Yes" to the first question. About 80 percent, of the Dalhousie students approved the suggestion. The total rose to 87 percent, at McGill and soared to 94 percent, at St. Francis Xavier. However, while St. FX Artsmen and Engineers were unanimously in favour of an original flag, they were decidedly opposed to any retention of the present Union Jack.

At Bishop's University, students were apparently not too enthusiastic over the possibility of acquiring a special emblem for the Dominion. Only 66.6 percent, were amenable to the idea, while 27.7 percent, were opposed. The remainder was undecided. Of the first figure, three-quarters thought the Commonwealth flag should be retained in some manner.

Formal Dress Topic Of Faculty Debate

The second in the present series of Interfaculty debates is being run off this Thursday afternoon with Commerce opposing R.V.C.

The topic of the debate which is to be run off in the Engineering Building at 5 p.m., is "Resolved that the dress at McGill is too formal." The Accountants will uphold the affirmative side of the topic while the girls will oppose it.

In the schedule to date keen interest has been evident throughout. The girls from R.V.C. are atop the league but the other debating squads are all in the running for the Debating Shield.

Chancellor Wilson Heads Patron List For ACS Formal

Surrealistic Murals To Form Decorations At Currie Gymnasium

Chancellor Morris Wilson has consented to head the list of distinguished patrons and honoured guests for the Arts-Commerce-Science Ball to be held in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium this Friday night. In addition, Principal and Mrs. F. Cyril James, Vice Principal and Mrs. W. H. Brittain, Vice Principal and Mrs. A. H. Gillson, Dr. Muriel V. Roscoe, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Hatcher, Lt.-Col. and Mrs. J. N. Morris, Professor and Mrs. MacLennan, Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Beach, Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Keys, Professor and Mrs. B. S. Kierstead, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Woodhead, Professor and Mrs. E. R. Adair, and Dr. and Mrs. Barker are to be patrons for the affair.

Reservations have been coming in at a steady rate and final details on the decorations were released last night. According to Bob Gill and Ray Davis, who are in charge of the decorations, the general plan is to have a series of murals each of which depicts street scenes in a surrealistic manner. The murals will be brightly coloured and according to the group will be completely different from anything seen at past formals on the campus.

According to varied reports, it appears that the majority of those students attending will be at the Quebec-McGill hockey game earlier in the evening, and adding consequently (Continued on Page Four.)

L.P.P. Opposition, C.C.F. Table Amendments For Mock Parliament Reconvening Tomorrow

House Debate On Labor Code Will Be Held

The Labor-Progressive amendment to the Government for a Dominion Labor Code, to be presented at the second Mock Parliament tomorrow night in the Union Ballroom, was submitted today for the consideration of McGill students. The Labor-Progressive Party Club will act as His Majesty's Loyal Opposition at this session. The C.C.F. amendment was also published, the Liberal amendment to be presented tomorrow.

The L.P.P. amendment has stated that its proposed Dominion Labor Code has the following purposes: a) "Dominion Standard of Labor Employment" and b) provisions to "govern labor - management relations." It differs from the Progressive - Conservative bill in providing for specific standards of wages and working conditions. It ensures that provisions for collective bargaining will be carried out by preventing employers from setting up "company unions" and by providing penalties for breaches of provisions of the Labor Code. The total effect of the L.P.P. amendment is to substitute a completely new Labor Code for the one proposed by the Progressive Conservative Club.

The C.C.F. amendment also takes issue with the lack of specific guarantees of trade union rights and conditions of work in the Government bill. It particularly objects to the suggestion in the original bill that government supervision of Union elections and finances is necessary to ensure democratic procedure in the Union. This amendment declares "the individual employee is fully capable of controlling his Union officers and this clause could ... be used to intimidate Union officials."

Both the L.P.P. and C.C.F. amendments include a clause to the effect that nothing in the Code would in any way restrict the right of employees to strike.

In view of the critical state of labor-management relations in the present postwar period, the subject of a "Dominion Labour Code" is of unusual topical interest. All the groups involved in the preparation of the forthcoming Mock Parliament anticipate an interesting and exciting debate. All McGill students are members of the parliament entitled to full speaking and voting privileges.

Revue Program Cover Chosen

E. Needham Awarded Prize, Free Tickets For Winning Entry

The winning cover design for the program of the Red and White Revue has been picked by a committee of five, headed by Bob Sabloff. The cover was submitted by E. R. Needham, and he will be awarded a prize of ten dollars, plus two complimentary tickets to the Revue.

The committee announced that there were several other excellent designs submitted, and the runners up will be awarded free tickets to the Revue. The three covers judged as runners up were designed by Geoffrey C. Cook, Arts I; Roger P. Richard of the Department of Geology; and by Glen Carter, Science I.

Every design submitted, which did not otherwise win a prize, will be awarded tickets to the dress rehearsal of the Revue.

A spokesman for the committee expressed gratification at the response to the contest, there being fourteen entries submitted altogether, and the winning cover is reputed to be the best in many years.

Text of L.P.P. Amendment

Moved by His Majesty's Loyal Opposition.

Delete all words after "Resolved" and insert the following:

That this house, under the provisions of Bill 15 (Emergency Powers Act) enact a Federal Labor Code and that either by securing the co-operation of the Provincial Governments or by Constitutional amendment the Federal Labor Code be made permanently mandatory.

The Dominion Labor Code: a) shall contain a Dominion Standard of Labor Employment; a) shall govern labor-management relations.

Article I

The Dominion Standard of Labor Employment shall include:

1. A minimum hourly wage rate of sixty cents (60c)
2. Equal pay for equal work
3. A maximum working week of forty hours
4. A minimum age of employment of 16 years
5. Guaranteed minimum annual wage.
6. Two weeks annual vacation with pay
7. Unemployment Insurance
7. Unemployment Insurance Benefits equal to the minimum pay

Article II

The following shall be the provisions for regulations of labor-management relations:

1. Workers shall have the right to join trade unions.
2. It shall be illegal for employers or their agents to organize, subsidize or in any way to assist in the organization of "company unions," "plant councils," or "employee associations."
3. No union shall be considered bona-fide if the employer directly or indirectly in any way participates in the functioning or direction of such a union.
4. Any union representing the Text of C.C.F. Amendment

It is regretted that the Government has not framed its measures, in a matter which would have made them effective; nor has included others which are deemed necessary, and has included two which are considered threatening to the free operation of labour organizations governed only by their members.

It is therefore proposed to amend the Bill as follows:

Retain Sec. 1a.

Amend Sec. 1b. to read, "It shall be mandatory upon all employers to bargain collectively with the respective trade unions chosen by a majority of their respective employees. Employers who refuse to do so shall be subject to heavy financial penalties in the first instance, and in the face of persistent refusal upon the part of the employer, the Government is hereby empowered to seize and operate any plant, factory, company or firm, to ensure that the law of Parliament is not circumvented."

Amend Sec. 1c. to read, "Every collective bargaining agreement entered into by an employer and a trade union representing the majority of employees in any appropriate bargaining unit after this Act comes into force, shall contain and, if entered into before this Act comes into force, shall be deemed to contain, at the request of such trade union, a provision that during the term of such agreement the members of such trade union shall maintain their membership in such trade unions as a condition of employment and that all new employees employed during the term of such agreement shall as a condition of employment, apply for membership and maintain membership in such trade union during the term of the said agreement, and failure to enter into a written agreement including such provisions, if so requested by a trade union representing the majority of employees of any such unit, or to carry out the terms of such agreement, subject to any law or regulation applicable thereto passed by the authority of the Parliament of Canada, shall be an unfair labour practice."

Upon the request in writing of any employee, and upon the request (Continued on Page Four)

Varsity's Newspaper Enlarged To Meet Increased Enrolment

By GLENN LYMBURNER

'Varsity', Toronto University's undergraduate newspaper, is now the proud possessor of eight tabloid pages, and 11,500 copies; the product of a rotary press.

Increased enrolment, which has caused Toronto like McGill to expand to a suburban extension. Ajax, (shades of Dawson) has necessitated the change. Outgrowing available printing facilities, the Toronto University Press, which has been rolling out the paper since 1911, the Varsity is now being printed in Oshawa by the Rotary Printing Company.

This obviously makes putting out the paper rather complex. Yet preparing copy in Toronto for printing in Oshawa, although seemingly hopeless, has stepped up both circulation and delivery. When you consider that all copy is trans-

Political Clubs Scored By Forum

Vancouver, Jan. 28.—(CUP)—The proposed formation of political clubs on the campus of the University of British Columbia has been voted down by a Mock Parliament forum.

In a debate between CCF and LPP group members on the resolution "Political clubs at the University should be awarded the same status, with the exception of the provision of funds as other campus clubs," Bob Harwood, CCF leader, charged that the formation of such clubs bring petty politicking and party stonoges to the campus under the guise of students. In his opinion the campus groups would amount to little more than branch organizations of the political party supported by party funds.

Supporting the affirmative Gordon Martin, a LPP member of the Parliament, cited Oxford and Cambridge as examples of universities where the existence of political clubs was compatible with university policy.

England, Russia 'In Same Boat' States Karpovitch

Anglo-Soviet Relations Traced In Lecture By Harvard Professor

By TOBY FALKER

"There is hope for the future relations of England and Russia, but only if both countries stop thinking along the old selfish lines, and realize that we are all in the same boat, destined to sink or remain alive together," stated Professor Karpovitch of the History department at Harvard University, in a lecture on "The History of Anglo-Russian Relations" given yesterday noon at Moyse Hall under the joint sponsorship of the Economics and Sociology departments here.

Professor Karpovitch pointed out that Anglo-Russian relations started very late in the history of both countries: around the middle of the sixteenth century. Until then both countries had led largely isolated existences; but by the sixteenth century, England started upon the road of maritime and commercial expansion, and Russia became more interested in western countries for her program of modernization.

This first period of Anglo-Russian relations, until the middle of the eighteenth century, Professor Karpovitch called "a period of friendly relations"; for at this time England's interest in Russia was limited to commerce and transit trade, while Russia's interests were broader, involving culture as well (Continued on Page Four.)

NFCUS Panel Hears Balfour

McGill Delegate Urges Permanent Campus Committee

Dick Balfour, president of the Student Society, and delegate from McGill to the National N.F.C.U.S. Conference, addressed a meeting of the Pre-Conference N.F.C.U.S. Panel committees, and several other interested students, on Saturday afternoon, January 26th, in the Players Club Room.

Mr. Balfour reported on the National Conference, and answered questions related to the future plans of the N.F.C.U.S. both at McGill and on a national scale. At the close of the discussion, the following resolution was passed.

"We, the members of the Pre-Conference N.F.C.U.S. panel committees, and other interested students, recommend that the Students Executive Council immediately set up a permanent McGill N.F.C.U.S. committee. In accordance with the recommendation of the National N.F.C.U.S. Conference. This committee to be composed of (a) Representatives from all campus undergraduate societies and clubs, (b) Any other interested stu-

(Continued on Page Four.)

President Outlines Activities

(Special to The Daily.)

St. Johns, January 28.—At a well-attended meeting in the Dawson theatre last night, the president of the Students' Council, Peter Hadrill, announced to those students who arrived in January that they would be the ones to elect the new Students' Council in March. The date of the election has not been set but it is expected to take place approximately twenty days after nominations are due. He further announced that nominations would be due tomorrow.

COMPLETE NEW EXECUTIVE

The January entrance students of Dawson College met last night to discuss the forthcoming elections of a complete new executive. Approximately two hundred and fifty veterans attended the meeting. Peter Hadrill, Dawson College president, conducted the discussion period.

On the platform as well were Joe Cadloff, of the canteen committee, Bob Dunton, chairman of the house committee, and Jim Spencer, the social convener. The January class was impressed by these executive members with the necessity of having an executive body. Several aspects of the situation were presented.

It was reminded that every student at Dawson paid four dollars at the beginning of the present session for the Undergraduate Societies. This comes to approximately $1,200 for the entire student body, which amount, in the event there is no student organ at Dawson, would revert to the treasury of the McGill Students Executive Council.

FOOD IMPROVED

The food which was served in the Dawson College mess hall two months ago was far worse than it is today. Consequently a messing committee was chosen to contact those responsible through the proper channels. It was pointed out that the Dawson Students' Council had instigated the reduction of rates for board which were in effect when the students who were attending the meeting commenced their term. It was also stressed that these things could not have been done without the Students' Council.

HOUSE COMMITTEE

"The only way we could get any recognition for our complaints was to elect a house committee to forward them to Vice-Principal Gillson," explained Hadrill. In comparison with the October set-up he expressed satisfaction with the way things are running.

The president further pledged the co-operation of the Council in initiating the future executive in its duties. He said that he believed the job of organization at St. Johns had been considerably accomplished. Later in the meeting questions were asked by the students at large, in (Continued on Page Four)

WORLD EVENTS

Ottawa.—Premier Duplessis pledged that Quebec was prepared to do its full part for the good of all the Dominion at the Dominion-Provincial Conference, though he remained silent on Quebec's proposals.

London.—The Soviet attempt to shelve the Iran question from the United Nations Conference failed.

Peking.—The Chinese armistice commission announced that fighting has ceased in the four northern provinces of China.

Ottawa.—Trade Minister MacKinnon stated that prospects for trade in Europe were "very good," with an especially high demand for Canadian wheat.

Rome.—Italy pleaded that her colonies of Cyrenaica, Tripolitania, Eritrea and Somaliland be returned to her.

New York.—Continuing labor-management disputes held more than 1,390,000 idle throughout the United States today.

McGill Daily

THE OLDEST COLLEGE DAILY IN CANADA

President and Secretary,
Canadian University Press

Published every week-day during the college year at 680 SHELBROOKE ST. W.
Telephone LANcaster 2244.

Opinions expressed below are those of the Managing Board of the McGill Daily and not the official opinions of the Students' Society.

CHARLES WASSERMANN... Editor-in-Chief
ALLAN KNIGHT... Managing Editor
RUTH LICHTIG... Features Editor
THOMAS BUCK... News Editor
HERB SHAYNE... Sports Editor
G. H. FLETCHER... Advertising Manager

ROSS MACDONALD... City Editor
NORMAN WOLFE... Assistant Sports Editor
ELEANOR HANNA... C.U.P. Editor

ASSOCIATE EDITORS
Chief Staff Writer, News... Fred Cleman
Chief Staff Writer, Sports... Dave Marks
Assistant Features Editor... Lya Popper
Women's News Editor... Dusty Vineberg
Dawson College Editor... Bernard Cooper
Librarian... Selma Winthrop
Staff Photographers... Peter Hall
Bob Sabloff

C.U.P. BUREAU
Glenna Lymburner... Bureau Chief
Mary Moxon... Night Editor
Keith Tishshaw... Night Editor

DESK EDITORS
John Chipman... Arnie Chalkin
Althea McCoy... John Piper
Toby Palker... Larry Sirota
Alan Portugal... Conrad Shalner
Betty Sigler... Marvin Shiller

IN CHARGE OF THIS ISSUE
News... Sports...
John Chipman... Conrad Shalner
Senior Reporters
Goldie Wolofsky, Marc Duclos, Peggy Fyles,
Betty Brewer.
Cub Reporter
Alex Halney
Dawson College
Lyon Nathanson, Andy Hugesson

TUESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1946
Vol. XXXV, No. 72

Another Introduction

This brief introduction to the School for Graduate Nurses comes as the fourth of a series. This is a series of illustrated editorial pages dedicated to faculties and schools on the campus which have become little known to the student body. The Faculty of Music, the School of Architecture and the Library School have already been dealt with in as full a manner as possible, but due to obvious limitations of space these surveys have been forced to give only an outline of the workings of the school or faculty, its history and its relative position on the campus.

Although this leaves an incomplete picture of these groups the purpose of the pages is lost. The average student goes through university as a member of one or perhaps two faculties. Beyond the members of his own courses he does not seem to be able to make contact with other faculties on the campus. In the cases of these groups that appear to be isolated from the main bodies, the connecting links are shown to be very slight.

In the case of the Faculty of Music, a few Arts Students are enrolled in the elementary courses. The architects are placed in the Engineering building and take some of their lectures with the engineers. The only contact with the Library School is through Redpath which not all of us are able to frequent. As for the Graduate Nurses, they attend some lectures in the Arts and Science courses and the rest in their own school.

This condition leads to the tendency for students to lose sight of the existence of the smaller groups because only a small number of them intermingle with the larger groups. It is because of this that we have tried to show the importance of these groups to a well-built and properly functioning campus.

That the importance of the nursing profession is increased during wartime there can be no doubt. During this past year the enrollment in the Graduate Nurses School has increased greatly to allow for the influx of veterans. The greater the need for hard work the greater becomes the realization of the value of education. This, many of the nurses who served in the armed forces have realized and hence are coming back to complete their training with some further advanced studies and administrative work. As it happens, among the nurses enrolled this year are the two who headed the nursing divisions of the medical corps of both the C.W.A.C. and the R.C.A.F. (W.D.).

The training of a nurse is not an easy course. It takes three years of very hard and rigorous training to build up the speed and accuracy so necessary to the profession. Yet these nurses must still take two years of university if they wish to obtain their B.Sc. degree. There are not a few who are doing it. They are students who must work hard, and who are to be respected for the part they play in society.

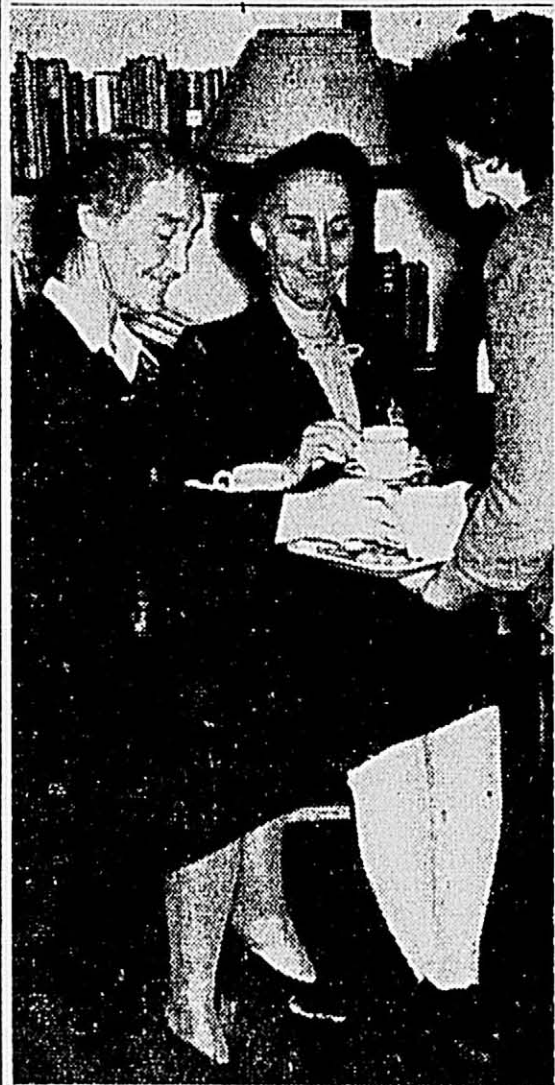

SCHOOL FOR GRAD. NURSES

Miss Lindeberg

By Sorryl Cohen

"I would much rather talk about the merits of the staff than myself." These were the first words uttered by Miss Lindeberg, in an interview with the Daily. But since Miss Lindeberg is the head of the school for graduate nurses, something should be known about both her and her work.

Miss Lindeberg came to McGill in 1929, and by 1933 she was head of the school. Looking back upon her education it is interesting to note that she was a school teacher for fifteen years before she entered a school of nursing. Having made the decision to become a nurse, she took her training in St. Luke's Hospital in New York City. She received her M.A. from Columbia University, and then returned to her home province of Saskatchewan where she interested herself in school health work.

(McGill Daily—Peter Hall)

MISS LINDEBERG, with Miss Moore, a visiting member of the Department of Public Health, Toronto.

Though her position is mainly of an administrative nature, Miss Lindeberg has an active teaching program, which she enjoys very much. "You know," she laughed, "a teacher once, a teacher always."

In discussing the school itself, she emphasized the great need of having such a school for preparing qualified nurses for positions of leadership in the various nursing fields. Just in the past few years, the school has expanded greatly. In fact, this is a unique year in its history. Students having completed a two year course inaugurated last year, will receive degrees for the first time at graduation this year. And next year an even bigger program has been planned. Miss Lindeberg suggested that both the staff and faculty be enlarged, because of the number of veterans, who have already started to apply for next year's course. At present there are only four permanent members on the staff.

Miss Lindeberg finds her surroundings very pleasant. "The atmosphere is very warm and homey," she said. "It reflects the friendly relationship between the staff and the students. Nor do the student nurses spend all their time at work. The social aspect is emphasized also. Miss Lindeberg marvels that the girls who accomplish much work still seem to have time for social activities. "We are one large happy family, working together towards a common goal," she said.

Miss Lindeberg is very optimistic about the future of the school for graduate nurses. Increased enrollment shows a growing demand for nurses with post-graduate education, and Miss Lindeberg's hope for the enlargement of the school seems sure to be fulfilled.

Time and Tide

Extract

Recently we came across a number of interesting New Year resolutions... a little late perhaps... but since the year is just beginning, there is still time to examine them.

These are extracts from the new year resolutions of the Editorial Policy, of "Horizon", the well-known English Literary monthly:

"What other resolutions have we taken? To continue to try to make the new government, for which we have voted, do more to encourage culture... to facilitate foreign travel... to work for... a new humanism which considers human life vulgar but sacred, and the happiness even of other people, as our supreme aim.

And to uphold the belief that Art is an end in itself, with a life of its own and rewards of its own which, without knowing why, some people do better than others, which, any more than life, can't be broken down in order to be mechanically created, and which is able to transcend time, as the enjoyment of it transcends time."

There is one new idea in these precepts. "A new humanism... human life vulgar but sacred." It combines the intellectual revolt against standardization and socialization of art, and the true democratic attitude to the dignity of man.

The other important idea is not new, and we are glad to see it re-affirmed. Art must be, above all, for the sake of Art, with no ulterior motive.

If they keep to these resolutions, "Horizon" should be, in 1946, an even better magazine than it has been up to now.

—L. P.

The School Itself

By Nancy Marcus

THE BUILDING.

A neat plaque to the right of the entrance of a small red brick building on University Street announces the School for Graduate Nurses. Those few students in other faculties who have passed through that entrance will remember a friendly home-like school as unlike other buildings on the campus as it possibly could be. Facing the entrance is a cheery office, with a wide variety of plants decorating the sills of its many windows. To the right is a cosy library—well stocked with books pertaining to nursing. A comfortable lounge for the use of students, and several classrooms occupy the other floors of the building.

The School for Graduate Nurses began as an independent school within the University in 1920, in response to a proposal presented by leading members of the nursing profession in Montreal. This proposal, in the form of a report, outlined the urgent need in Canada for University courses to prepare graduate nurses for positions of responsibility as teachers and administrators in schools of nursing part of the University, functioning under the Faculty of Medicine.

The aims of the School, according to a report prepared for the Rockefeller foundation have been 'first, to provide the necessary preparation for positions of leadership as teachers and administrators for hospitals and schools of nursing in the community; second, to serve as a teaching center for further graduate study by those in active service in the community; and third, to serve as a center for study and research to advance the knowledge and art of nursing and to promote the highest ideals and spirit of professional service'.

Of the 97 nurses registered in the Certificate and Degree courses this year, 43 have seen service as nursing sisters. Included in this number are Miss MacRae, former matron in chief of Nursing Sisters in Canada with rank of Lieutenant-Colonel; and Mrs. Porteous, former matron-in-chief of the Air Force Nursing Sisters. In its twenty five years of existence the School for Graduate Nurses has graduated approximately 600 students in the courses on its curriculum: Administration in Schools of Nursing, Psychiatric Nursing, Teaching and Supervision in Schools of Nursing, maintenance, but in 1932 the School was again thrown on its own. At present the school is once more Public Health Nursing, and Administration and Supervision in Public Health Nursing.

(McGill Daily—Peter Hall)

NURSES AT A SOCIOLOGY LECTURE

The McGill School for Graduate Nurses is one of three such schools in existence in Canada. Its contributions to the community have been manifold; the continuation of its existence is of utmost importance if the interests of the medical profession are to be furthered in Canada.

writer of the letter could have seen it if he so desired.

Naturally however when John offered to be our main speaker at the forthcoming parliament the club was very ready to have our program presented by so capable a speaker.

Continued on Page Four

(McGill Daily—Peter Hall)

THE BASKETBALL TEAM

LETTER FORUM

IN REPLY

The Editor McGill Daily.

There appeared in this column yesterday regarding a situation which presumably exists in the Mock Parliament. After a special meeting of the Debating Union Executive and the speaker Prof. Tuck who are responsible for the Parliament, the following conclusions were reached.

After a very thorough examination of all the facts available, it seems that the leader of the Labour Progressive Party Opposition was not at the time of the last session, a member of the L.P.P. on the campus. Whether or not he had political affiliation outside of the University group does not enter into the situation. Because he was not a member of the L.P.P., the Executive has decided that he is technically entitled to assume the role which he has been given.

I wish to make it clear, that although there is nothing to condemn on the surface, we unanimously rebuke any political group on the campus for pursuing a policy which consequently casts a reflection on its motives and techniques. I again emphasize to all those concerned that there is no appeal from the decision of the Debating Union Executive, which is non-partisan and which represents all the students on the campus through their Executive Council. As long as this Society is responsible for the Mock Parliament, our aim is not the introduction into campus life of political machinations and other questionable acts.

This activity has been organized to give all those interested a fair opportunity to express themselves on pertinent questions of the day, in a parliamentary atmosphere, in a dignified way. Let it be known that if any time in the future there be a breach of faith by any of the political groups on the campus, whether this breach of faith is within the letter of the law or otherwise, the party responsible will be barred from the next Mock Parliament. The Executive repeats this statement of policy to no particular group but to all.

As for the situation which brought on this letter, we now consider the matter closed. To the members of the political groups we reiterate the conditions under which this activity will continue, and to the students whose interests we safeguard, we guarantee "an honest Mock Parliament" or no Mock Parliament at all.

ISADORE ROSENFELD,
President Debating Union Society.

Editor, McGill Daily.

Sir,—I would like to defend John Switzman against the vicious and unjustified attack made against him in an unsigned letter in yesterday's Daily.

For the information of the writer the following are the true facts of the case. First: John Switzman was not a member of the McGill L.P.P. club at the time of the last Mock Parliament. The fact that he has joined the club in the interval is not as was suggested "amazing". In fact, many other students have also done so in the past few weeks. Moreover since at the parliament John spoke on behalf of the L.P.P. amendment it must have been quite clear to those students who were there where his sympathies lay.

Second: As elected chairman of the L.P.P. club I can assure the writer that John Switzman is not the "leader" of the club, in fact he is not even a member of the executive. The club executive was elected at a conference held two weeks ago in the McGill Union. The complete list of students elected to the executive was published in the Daily where I assume the

The famous "sailor" trademark is a symbol of all that is best in tobacco manufacture and guarantees that the contents of the package will maintain Player's world-wide reputation for excellence and dependable quality.

PLAYER'S NAVY CUT
CIGARETTES

MONTREAL OPTICAL SHOP
DISPENSING OPTICIANS

OPTICAL REPAIRS
PLASTIC FRAMES — AVIATOR GOGGLES
1465 McGill College Avenue

Neilson's

The Quality Chocolate

PUT YOUR FACULTY ON TOP!

SEE THAT Your Pledge to the Red Cross—I.S.S.—and the Amalgamated Charities Is a 100% Effort.

N.B. Newly-Enrolled Veterans Will Have Their Chance To Contribute Thursday.

INTERCOLLEGIATE GAMES FEATURE HOOP AND PUCK PLAY

McGill Hoopsters Await Invading Mustang Horde For Curtain-raising Tilt

Intercollegiate Basketball Opener Scheduled for Coming Saturday

Fresh from their 44-21 victory over the Middlebury Panthers, the rampaging Red Raiders await the invasion of the Western cagers next Saturday night in the opening of the local Intercollegiate schedule.

The mighty Mustangs have established themselves as the team to beat for the coveted pennant and will be hard to tame in any corral. Rounding into form against the strongest American squads, the London lads have held the United States' best to surprisingly close scores. This played dividends as was shown by the decisive Western victory over the Queen's quintet in the league inaugural last Friday night.

SIX LETTER MEN BACK
Sparkplug of the team is "Moose" McNair, stellar guard, who is starring once more after three years in the paratroopers. A high scorer of previous years, Marly Humphries is back at his old post. To add to these cagers, six letter men are left from last year's power-packed squad. Outstanding among these are Russ Nightingale and Bill Cunningham, while football stars Huyck, Curry, Krol and Wardle have proved themselves in this sport as well.

McGILL IMPROVES
Far from nonplussed by the potent package awaiting them Saturday, the Redmen themselves have established quite an enviable record this year. From the opening

Sports Summary

Yesterday's Basketball Results
Phys. Ed. 34—Com 3 & 4—28
Com 1 A 77—Sci. 3 & 4—29

Intramural Schedule
Tue. Jan. 29th—Hockey Intramural
5.15 p.m.—Com. vs. Phy. Ed.
6.00 p.m.—Eng. vs. Grads

Basketball Intramural
5.15 p.m.—Med 2A vs. Comm B
5.15 p.m.—Com 2 vs. Sci 2
6.00 p.m.—Med 1vs. Eng 2A.

Wed. Jan. 30th—Hockey Intramural
5.15 p.m.—Eng 3-4 vs. Ph. Ed.
6.15 p.m.—Sci vs. Dents.

Volleyball Intramural
5.15 p.m.—Com. 3 & 4 vs. Phy. Ed.
5.15 p.m.—Arch. vs. Eng 2

Basketball MBL
8.00 p.m. Georgians vs. McGill Intermediates.

Intercollegiate Hockey Standings

	P	W	L	F	A	P	T
Varsity	2	2	0	22	6	4
McGill	2	2	0	14	7	4
Queen's	1	0	1	1	6	0
Montreal	3	0	3	12	30	0

Rutherford's Men Face Sir George In Crucial Game

Red Cagers Require Two More Successes To Win Championship

Winning two four-point games within the space of two days, the McGill Intermediate cagers consolidated their hold atop their section of the M.B.L. Facing Georgians this Wednesday, Coach Rutherford's boys need but to win this contest and the succeeding one against the University of Montreal to assure themselves of at worst a first-place tie.

SEVEN STRAIGHT SUCCESSSES
Paced by Beaugrand and Davine, the Intermediates have dropped only their first game of the year and that to Dawson. This defeat was avenged and the Red Raiders have since run up an impressive victory skein of seven triumphs for a total of 18 points.

The Sir George boys on the other hand have disappointed. Picked as the team to beat they have been just that and the other squads have used them as a stepping stone to playoff berths. Nothing would please the Drummond Street gang more, however, than to topple the McGill squad from its lofty perch.

TITLE AT STAKE
With the league title within sight, the Redmen are not taking any chances and are out to make sure of victory. Coach Ronnie Rutherford has got his squad in top condition for the fray. Allen, who has been a high-point scorer in the past few games will be out to keep the mesh swishing a lively tune while Captain Chuck Murray, who showed well in the Middlebury game, can be counted to turn in the usual steady game. It's two games to the title and the Redmen want it badly.

SPORT FLASHES

by CONNIE SHATNER

IN OUR OPINION

We noticed with what comparative ease the Redmen disposed of the visiting Panthers from Middlebury last Saturday night. When we consider the calibre of opponent McGill is facing and compare that with such colleges as Kentucky and Wayne, who have played Western and Varsity, we are more than a little disappointed.

Basketball is the glamor sport of North America right now and surely McGill has enough prestige to invite down the shining lights of the American hoop courts instead of playing small colleges.

We don't for a minute expect McGill to defeat the Madison Square Garden boys but nonetheless it is no disgrace to lose to a better team and the brand of ball played would be enlightening to the spectators. Montreal is becoming "hoop conscious" and there is no reason why McGill can't set the pace.

The difference can be best shown by the comparative ease with which Toronto and London took Queen's into camp. Those two had a steady diet of American teams, while the Kingston squad competed against local teams. The results speak for themselves.

Here's hoping next year McGill invites the strong university teams up for exhibition tilts. As it is American colleges or no American colleges, Western, here we are. It's going to be quite a game.

BOUQUET OF THE WEEK

In the games we've seen this year, no one turns in a steadier or more consistent cage game than Kenny Hoyle, guard on the Red Raiders. Playing his first year on the team, Hoyle has given a wonderful display on defense every time out. He has a penchant for sinking the long ones and netted two against the Y.M.H.A. last week.

In that contest, along with Finlay, he turned in almost a full game of clean, aggressive play. He had but one foul called on him and he went away shaking his head because of it. His ball-handling was a thing to behold and the "Y" had a hard time watching him.

With the type of game he's been turning in, McGill is counting heavily on Hoyle as one of the main cogs of the machine which they hope to set in high gear against the invading Mustangs next Saturday night.

SOMETHING NEW

Formal dress, once the vogue at Intercollegiate hockey games, will once more be in evidence when Queen's and McGill lock horns at the Forum this Friday night. The ACS formal is scheduled for the same evening.

KENNY HOYLE

YMHA Defeats Water Polo Team By 6-4 Verdict

Redmen Face Winner Of Queen's Varsity Tilt For University Crown

The McGill water polo squad was defeated last night by the count of 6-4 but only after they had given the Dominion champion YMHA squad a terrific battle.

MANN, FRANK STAR

Paced by Bob Mann and Gerry Frank who accounted for four goals between them, the Redmen turned in a sterling brand of ball. In the goals Dave Townsend was sensational and ranks as the star of the night.

On the guards Paffel and Brenhouse were very effective holding the Y squad in check. At center half, Geoffrey Ince played a strong two-way game while Elliott Woods, Fineberg and Benjamin turned in more than adequate games.

FACE VARSITY—QUEEN'S WINNER

Preparing for their game against the winner of Queen's and Varsity, the Redmen have scheduled two more exhibition tilts. This includes games at Knights of Columbus and M.A.A. pools against the home teams on Wednesday and Thursday respectively.

Reports from Varsity indicate that the Toronto boys have a powerhouse. Playing against powerful American teams, the Blue and White have compiled an unbeaten seven-game skein. Such teams as Buffalo and Princeton have gone down to defeat at the hands of the Blueboys. The Toronto Swimming Club, Ontario's best, has proved no obstacle to the advancing Varsity-tomans.

McGill, on the other hand, feels it can cope with the fast boys from Toronto, who are expected to oust Queen's. The probable McGill lineup will include Townsend in goals, Paffel and Brenhouse on defence, Geoff Ince, centre half, Cooper, centre, and Mann and Fineberg on wings. Benjamin and Woods are subs.

MacDougall, Scott, Hugessen & Macklaier

Advocates, Barristers and Solicitors
Aldred Building, 507 Place d'Armes

Gordon W. MacDougall, K.C.
W. B. Scott, K.C.
Hon. A. K. Hugessen, K.C.
Wm. F. Macklaier, K.C.
John F. Chisholm, K.C.
G. Miller Hyde
H. Larratt Smith
H. Weir Davis
James P. Anglin
Peter M. Laing

Red Pucksters Practice For Forthcoming Clash With Queen's Friday

Campbell Crew Face Dartmouth In International Match Saturday

Somewhat taken back by the close call with Les Carabins last Saturday, the Campbell crew are not taking any chances with the invading Golden Gaels from Kingston, who are their next opponents.

Practicing hard for the game next Friday night, the Redmen will be out to run up a more convincing score than Varsity did against the Queen's boys. The McGill star to date has been Johnny Pierson who has turned in two outstanding performances to date. Along with Jimmy O'Connor and with Pittfield and Spiller alternating on the line, he leads one of the most feared trios in the league. Equally brilliant is the SHH line of Sinclair and the Hale brothers.

CAMPBELL COACHES QUEEN'S
Opposing the Redmen Friday however will be no slouches. The invading Kingstonians have advanced to the semi-finals of a local league and will be a good test for the rampaging Redmen. Coached by Al Campbell, former Kirkland Blue Devil star, the Gaels rely mainly on Goaler Dave Woods and Defense George Elliott and Bev Hamilton to hold the fort while the line of John Hood John Morrow and Bud Ohlke is considered one of the best in the college circuit.

McGILL PLAYS DARTMOUTH

Following Friday's game, the Redmen entrain for Dartmouth, where they face the Indians in an exhibition tilt Saturday. This is the first McGill hockey game against American opposition since the war and the Redmen are looking forward to this game as a tuneup for the crucial Varsity game three weeks hence. Dartmouth is one of the leading teams in the American College loop and may play the Canadian winners for the International championship early in March.

Stairs, Dixon, Claxton, Senecal & Turnbull

Barristers and Solicitors
G. S. Stairs, K.C.
S. G. Dixon, K.C.
Jacques Senecal, K.C.
Hugh H. Turnbull
John F. Stairs
E. W. Rowat
A. G. B. Claxton, K.C., M.P.
Hon. Brooke Claxton, K.C., M.P.

231 ST. JAMES STREET WEST
MONTREAL 1, QUE.

M.O.C. EXECUTIVE
There will be a short meeting of all the M.O.C. Executive tonight, Tuesday night, at seven fifteen REPEAT 7.15 p.m. at the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium. All members of the Executive are requested to be present.

Gordon Lindsay.

TANSEY'S
PHARMACY
PRESCRIPTION SPECIALISTS
Cigarettes, Stationery, Etc.
Sherbrooke & City Councillor
HA. 7866, MA. 0466-0296

TUXEDOS
and
FULL DRESS SUITS
for RENT
GOODMAN'S
1400 St. Catherine St. W.
Corner Bishop
LA. 6930

MONTGOMERY, McMICHAEL, COMMON, HOWARD, FORSYTH & KER
Advocates, Barristers and Solicitors
The Royal Bank Bldg., 360 St. James St. W.
Geo. H. Montgomery, K.C.
Robert G. McMichael, K.C.
Frank B. Common, K.C.
Thomas R. Ker, K.C.
Wilbert H. Howard, K.C.
Lionel A. Forsyth, K.C.
Edridge Cate, K.C.
C. Russell McKenzie, K.C.
Paul Gauthier
J. Leigh Bishop
Claude S. Richardson, K.C.
J. Angus Ostry, K.C.
F. Campbell Cope
John G. Forteous, K.C.
Hazen Barnard, K.C.
John de M. Marier
George S. Chailles
Geo. H. Montgomery, Jr.
Charles M. Drury
Andre Forget
Thomas A. Montgomery
Paul F. Renault
Joan G. Kirkpatrick
Counsel: Warwick F. Chipman, K.C.

ANOTHER WEEK, ANOTHER SCHEDULE

Intramural Sports League Continue Full Program

The Intramural sports programme once more swung into high gear as the basketball and hockey teams continued league play and the volleyball schedule for the coming week was announced.

In the basketball loop a full schedule was carried out with two important games being played. In the opener Pys. Ed. trimmed a highly favored Commerce 3 & 4 squad by a 34-20 count. Packed by Wilkinson who netted 11 points the winners led all the way. Commerce led by George Frank with 10 points, rallied gamely but could not catch up to the victors.

COMMERCE TEAMS BOW
In the second game a Commerce squad again bit the dust as Science 3 & 4 ran up a 29-17 count over Commerce 1A. Victor paced the victors with 9 points but high scoring honors went to Tommy Bridel of the losers.

League leaders in the four sec-

Dawson Students Form Basketball, Hockey Leagues

Intramural Programme To Commence Shortly; Night Games Played

The Intramural program at Dawson has entered its second term of activity. With basketball and hockey replacing floor hockey and softball, active student participation is once more anticipated.

EIGHTEEN TEAMS
In the basketball loop, Manager Ken Bullock has arranged a series of leagues containing 18 teams. Four games will be played a night with action slated for Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays. So great is the interest that the married men have been prevailed upon to enter the play.

In hockey, a league containing six teams has been arranged. Among the favorites are the Belson Bombers and the Aqua Bambini. League

(Continued on Page Four.)

TOUCHDOWN TRAGEDY

Fickle Football Fortunes Forsake Flashy Fordhamite

John Conroy played end for Fordham some years ago. He was no star, but a strong, steady guy who could handle his job. He played varsity end for three years.

During that time, John yearned to make a touchdown. It didn't matter that he played well and was a big factor in the Ram's victories. He wanted to make a touchdown more than anything else.

FORDHAM VS. BOSTON

Two seasons passed, and most of a third without his ambition coming true. Then Fordham went north for the Columbus Day battle with Boston College. It figured to be a tough game.

Conroy, as usual, was at end. He played well if not sensationally. But Fordham had a run of bad luck.

They scored two touchdowns in the first period, but both were nullified by penalties.

Class told, though, as it always does. The Rams surged into the lead and Boston opened a wild passing attack in an effort to catch up. And it paid off.

The Eagles won their way to Fordham's fifteen. Conroy, cold and poker-faced, diagnosed the next play before Freitas, the Boston quarter, faded. It would be a pass around his end.

PASS INTERCEPTED

He was right. Freitas threw the ball. John leaped high and intercepted it.

This was it! The Boston goal

Continued on Page Four

Previews And Reviews By Rvco-ed

Generally speaking, the post-Christmas season for coed sports presents a picture of settled activity. With the end of the Field Hockey's day we have the beginning of Ice Hockey. This club has started practices on Tuesdays from 2:00 to 4:00 and will soon begin work under a new coach. Our Ski team is putting on a good show at the intercollegiate meets and can be seen most week-ends in action "up North."

SWIMMING, BASKETBALL, BADMINTON

The Swimming, Basketball and Badminton teams have begun the grim schedule of training for the intercollegiate meets scheduled at the end of next month. The general impression is that we have a top group of athletes to represent us and that we should come out high on the list.

The R.V.C. Ski-House has opened with a bang and practically all the week-ends have been spoken for. However, very few down payments of $0.25 have been made. If this fee is not paid when signing up the place will not be reserved. So if you have signed up for any week-end, and have not as yet paid, you are warned that your priority will be forfeited.

The K. of C. Pool is kept busy with the Life Saving classes at 5:00 on Tuesdays, Team practice at 5:00-7:00 Tuesdays, and Friday 7:00-9:00. The Life Saving test will be on Feb. 12.

The Women's Badminton Doubles are getting on well. A. Merton and P. A. MacFarlane have reached the Finals and J. Elder and E. Fildes will play against J. Hood and B. Judah in the Semi's this week. The "B" Murray League is playing tonight at St. Hubert. A. Merton, B. Judah, C. Horsburgh, and B. Wallace are representing McGill.

Pierson Second In Scoring Race

McGill, Varsity Stars Dominate Point Parade In College Puck Loop

In the first compiling of the scorers in the Intercollegiate Puck Loop by the Daily, Johnny Pierson, flashy right winger for the Campbell crew placed second to Halder, Toronto forward.

Three McGill men crashed the Big Seven. Tommy Hale and Jimmy O'Connor were the other high point-getters. The scoring picture was completely dominated by McGill and Varsity with the latter boasting five men in the coveted circle, with two tied for seventh place.

SCORING STANDINGS

Player, team.	G.	G.	A.	Pts.
Halder, Toronto	2	7	5	12
Pierson, McGill	2	7	3	10
Henry, Toronto	2	4	4	8
T. Hale, McGill	2	3	3	6
Kossick, Toronto	2	4	2	6
Bauer, Toronto	2	1	4	5
G. Bell, Toronto	2	3	2	5
O'Connor, McGill	2	0	5	5
R. Pepin, U. of M.	3	3	1	4
Gignac, U. of M.	3	2	2	4
Sinclair, McGill	2	2	1	3
G. Hale, McGill	2	2	1	3
Dion, U. of M.	3	2	1	3
Gosselin, McGill	2	1	2	3
Kryzanowski, Toronto	2	1	2	3
Y. Pepin, U. of M.	1	1	2	3
Villeneuve, U. of M.	3	0	3	3
Dolbec, U. of M.	3	2	0	2
Bromley, Toronto	2	1	2	2
Spiller, McGill	2	0	2	2
Wade, Toronto	2	1	0	1
Elliott, Queens	1	1	0	1
Vallancourt, U. of M.	2	1	0	1
Doyle, Toronto	2	0	1	1
Heron, McGill	2	0	1	1
Bockstael, U. of M.	1	0	1	1
Pinard, U. of M.	3	0	1	1
Kent, Queens	1	0	1	1

Varsity Hoopsters Defeat Queens U.

Blues Take Initiative And Keep Decided Edge; McDonnell Star Of Tilt

In the first basketball game to be played in Hart House in Toronto since the war, the Varsity Blues Cage Squad defeated Queens Quintet 53-42 before an enthusiastic crowd of twelve hundred fans.

BLUES TAKE EARLY LEAD

The Blues took the lead shortly after the opening whistle never to lose it, they had a decided edge over the visiting team throughout the game, due mainly to the smooth passing plays of Wallace, Thomson and Maysel. The Queens defence was weak and the home-sters had little difficulty notching basket after basket.

In the second half the tricolor squad displayed more strength but still not sufficient to overcome the early Varsity lead, McDonnell from the Queens camp was high scorer of the game with 15 points to his credit.

Box Score:
Varsity (53), Wallace Maysel 9, Spay 8, Fountain Thomson 8, Gibson 3, Clayton Scott 8, Graham 12, Zeaton 5.
Queens (42), Weir 9, Devitt 5, Brown Hewitson 4, McDonnell 15, Moss Cooper 2, Mason 2, Finlay 5.

McGill Ring Topics By Marc Duclos

If you ever go down the B. W. & F. Room on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 5 p.m. you will see a lot of action going on, shadow boxing, skipping the rope, punching the bag, etc. all these proceedings being under the direction of one man, Irving Phillips who knows his business. (The Montreal Athletic Commission may think what they wish) and will prove it when the different boxing contests will take place in February.

FEB. 14 MEET

The first time the public will have the opportunity to see the Red and White Boxing Squad will be on February the 14th, the date set for the Interfaculty Meet. This year the proceedings of this meet will be altogether different, and we think, will provide more excitement. Instead of being an elimination affair, there will be a series of match bouts in which each boxer will fight for his own faculty and points will be given for each bout, somewhat like the New York point system. At the end of the evening the highest average will be the winning faculty.

The boxing team for the Intercollegiate competitions will be chosen from the best showings during the interfaculty contest, but Phillips told your observer that nobody is as yet sure to go as there is a lot of work in the field of training. The boxing coach informs us that there is still room for students interested in this field whether they have had experience or not. Phillips is particularly interested in a heavyweight or a fly-

Continued on Page Four

"I'll Be Seeing You!"

Marjorie Woods, Vocalist

at the
ACS FORMAL, Friday Night

Skiping Lectures

With Fred Cleman

BACHELOR AT A BALL GAME

AT THE ATHLETICS FESTIVAL—"Stag, Drag or Doc", but no doubt, so bachelor! Best quip of the night—Announcer Allan Knight's "fast passes are not permitted in this game" in presenting the R.V.C. vs. Engineers floor-hockey tourney. . . . Cute Doc—"I never take up with strangers—Haven't we met somewhere before?" . . . Cuter Doc—"He claimed he had a dual personality, so I told him to go chase himself!" . . .

MORE MIS(?) INFORMATION

BURLESQUE—a show where the actresses assume everybody in the audience is from Missouri! . . . ALIMONY—a system by which, when two persons make a mistake, one continues to pay for it. . . . WHISKY—civilian plasma. . . . SYMPATHY—what one girl offers another in exchange for details. . . . VEGETABLE SOUP—stew—only looser. . . . BATHING-SUIT—What a girl wears to make her see-worthy. . . .

PLAYING WITH WORDS

DOROTHY KILGALLAN—"A young couple with a softening of the hearties". . . (anon.)—"There they sat—holding eyes across the table". . . (anon.)—"What a scent of humor!". . . JOHN H. CUTLER—"She has a nice sense of humor". . . (anon.)—"She has delusions of glamor". . . and then there's the one about the co-ed who was the center of distraction. . . .

THOUGHTS WHILE SHAVING

ON THE DECLINING POTENCY OF BEER—Never in the history of human conviviality has so much water in fancy dress been absorbed by so many at so high a price. . . . SHADES OF THE SOAP-OPERA COMMERCIAL—Use Sinko Soap. . . It doesn't float. . . It doesn't smell. . . It doesn't clean, break in two, or bubble. . . It just keeps you company in the bathtub. . . .

CAUSTIC COMMENTS

JIMMY FIDLER—"One of those persons whose I's are too close together". . . JOHN GALSWORD—"He's not worth my wiles". . . E. NOAH GOULD—"She knew him only slightly". . . (anon.)—"He must have a sixth sense—there's no sign of the other five". . . JUDGE—"He loved and lost—his fortune". . . And then there's Jimmy Fidler's vitriolic quip about those new evening gowns—"Low and behold!" . . .

SPORT FLASHES—p. 3

ning and the committee is making plans still in the tentative stage, to reserve a section for those in 'tux or tails. Students can take in both events and a touch of color will be added to the already colorful proceedings.

As the game ends around 10.15 p.m. and the dance begins at 10 p.m. and lasts till 3.00 a.m., students will find the time schedules interlock very well.

HITHER AND YAW

A little late and a little out of season but we see where UBC champions of the Western Conference invited Western to Vancouver for an inter-section football game January 1. Plans fell through, but maybe next year. . . . The mighty Toronto hockey team clipped Michigan 9-4. . . . Assumption College and Western put on a scoring bee in basketball. Final score, 70-52 for Assumption. . . . Queen's is excited over holding St. Lawrence University to a 50-44 score. McGill beat them 52-31. That's the difference.

TEXT OF C.C.F.—p. 1

of a trade union representing the majority of employees in any bargaining unit of his employees, the employer shall deduct and pay in periodic payments out of the wages due to such employee, to the person designated by the trade union to receive the same, the union dues of such employee until employee has withdrawn in writing such request, and the employer shall furnish to such trade union the names of the employees who have given or withdrawn such authority. Failure to make payments and furnish information required by this section shall be an unfair labour practice.

Amend Sec. 1d, as follows: WHERE IT READS "maximum working week not to exceed 48 hours" TO READ "maximum working week not to exceed 40 hours. AND WHERE IT READS "annual holidays with pay" TO READ "a minimum of two weeks, annual holidays with pay."

Section 1e, to be deleted entirely, as the individual employee is fully capable of controlling his union officers, and this clause could, and probably would be used to intimidate union officials.

ARTICLE II

Amend Sec. 11a, by adding, where it reads "Penalties will be provided for the employers who interfere with or restrain trade union activities" ADD "or who commit unfair labour practices." ALSO ADD "a Fair Employment Practices Board shall be established to investigate all charges of discrimination and unfair labour practices."

Amend Sec. 11b, by adding, "the Board will have power to subpoena company books or records and all other evidence, necessary for its hearings."

The Bill to be amended further: by deleting Section 11c, entirely, as this clause is considered to have sinister meaning and could be used to intimidate union officials, hamper unions, and prevent them from achieving their legitimate ends.

As Section 11c, of the Act: "Nothing in this act, or in any act of the Board, shall interfere with the right of employees to strike."

TEXT OF L.P.P.—p. 1

shall be deemed in any way to restrict the right of employees to strike.

ARTICLE III

1. A Federal Labor Relations Board shall be established to interpret, administer and enforce the Labor Code. This Board shall include equal numbers of representatives of employers and trade unions and one or more representatives of the Government, and shall be the final authority on all interpretations of the Labor Code.

2. Regional Boards as subordinate bodies of the Federal Board shall be established. Such Regional Boards shall include equal numbers of representatives of employers and unions and one or more Government representatives, and shall be empowered to interpret, administer and enforce the Labor Code, subject to the review of the Federal Board, and to set up machinery adequate to expeditiously, and efficiently take up an settle all proposals, claims and grievances of labor and employers.

CHANCELLOR—p. 1

redable colour to the proceedings. Providing the supper music for the Formal will be Don Cameron and his Orchestra who will fill in during the hour long lull while food is being served. Meanwhile, Bob Chester's Orchestra has become a campus favourite during the last few weeks. Two of Chester's recordings have been placed in the juke-box in the grill room of the Union and his "theme song 'Sunburst'" has been played constantly to hit top spot on the campus' Song parade.

The orchestra has also been heard over Station CJAD and plans are being made to have Chester interviewed over the air this Friday.

Some tickets are available in either the Union or the Arts Building, with the Tuck Shop and Walter Reid's office as the place of sale. Reservations for tables can be made by contacting Bryan MacDonald at FT. 9580 or Dick Denman at AT. 1886 on Thursday between 12.30 and 1 p.m.

PRESIDENT—p. 1

timating that little concern was shown for the last executive by the Administration.

CONCERN AT SMALL ATTENDANCE

The chairman reiterated that, "Professor Gillson was very concerned about the small attendance at the first of these meetings which was called," and he intimated that any lack of co-operation on the part of the Administration was solely due to the fact that the Administration was in an organizational stage itself at the time.

Dunton, the house committee chairman, explained the organization of his committee. Each dormitory elected five men, who in turn chose one of their number to elect the final chairman. He said the fault of this system was that the chairman had been too far removed from the original electors. His solution is that the chairman should be elected at a mass meeting of all dormitory students and then a committee to work under him be elected subsequently.

The canteen committee chairman Cadoff reported on the present operating organization. "It is now a smoothly-running, efficient set-up," he said, "the committee recognizes the constructive suggestions given by the students."

VETERANS—p. 1

tion of the death sentence to Kurt Meyer was defeated.

A motion that the executive issue a statement to the press saying that the resolution on Kurt Meyer was not the opinion of the Veteran Body at McGill, was also defeated.

NFCUS—p. 1

dents, and (c) A representative from the student's executive council to act as chairman.

Signed:

Clem Beauchamp—International Relations Club Chairman—National Unity Panel.

John Switzman—Student Veterans Society.

Michael Brecher—Political Economy Club.

Ray Affleck—Architectural Undergraduate Society.

Freda Campbell—Cosmopolitan Club.

Rita Mary Burke—La Societe Francaise.

Jay Jackson—Student Veteran Society.

Marlin Sterlin—McGill Hillel Foundation.

Bram Welsman—Student Labour Club.

Eleanor Baxler—Chairman—Educational Panel Women's Union.

Helen Watson, Harold Ames, Gil Rosenberg—Student's Executive Council.

Freda Wales—Women's Union.

Ursula Milner-White—Debating Lenore Lamb—Graduate Nurses' Union.

Len Starkey—Pres. McGill Veterans Society.

Mel Shiffman—Vice Chairman of Pre-Conference N.C.F.C.U.S. Committee.

VARSI—p. 1

ter? there was this. "The Varsity today is a lot bigger. We have been dreaming of making it bigger for a long time now. . . . But merely because we are bigger, we are not necessarily one bit better. We have in our control at last the facilities for producing the world's best college daily. But we may very easily produce the worst. . . . We are going to try very hard to make the new Varsity worthy of a great university. . . . All too often power is abused, and the big things become merely the worthless things. It is our task now to put our giant's strength to enlightened uses."

"Not a bad way to take a step up in the world. . . . Aside from its impressive new capacity the Varsity is carrying on with its regular features and material. To illustrate there is the shining (?) example of the column entitled "Champus Cat" which has been adorning the pages of the paper since 1938. Starting out with the unassuming title "Campus Chat" a printer's error switched the spelling and the new name stuck. (Note: reference to instalment three in the following, excerpt should not impair your comprehension of the Great Message of the piece.)

"And as we say good-bye to the Emerald Isle of banishes and shenanigans the wail of Irish pipes fades into the distance and the curtain goes down. In instalment three of Finnegan's Wake, the sun goes down. In the west and the Flowers of the Forest fold their tents and silently unfold them again for the lack of something better to do."

DAWSON—p. 3

play is scheduled to get under way next week. However, on obstacle has arisen in the shortage of sticks but every effort to surmount it will be made.

FLOOR-HOCKEY FINALS

A carry-over from first term's program is the floor-hockey playoffs. The Sidus and Tengineers will square off in the deciding tilt this Thursday and Manager Jack Leslie anticipates a packed house.

HOCKEY NOTICE

A practice of the Intermediate hockey team will take place today at noon at the McTavish Rink.

Club News

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE CLUB

All Progressive Conservative supporters are urged to attend the Mqck Parliament on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Union Ballroom. The Progressive Conservative government is presenting advanced Labour Legislation that is urgently needed in Canada.

Further information about the Mqck Parliament will be available at a meeting to be held in the Music Room today Tuesday at 1.15.

The Cabinet will meet in the Music Room at 12.15 today for final discussion on the resolutions. This is the one session this year that there will be a Progressive Conservative Government so remember, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in McGill Union Ball Room.

STUDENT LABOUR CLUB

Dr. Harry F. Ward, lecturer, author and frequent visitor to the Soviet Union will address McGill students on "Democracy in the Russia" Wednesday at 5 in the Union Ballroom.

Besides being Professor of Christian Ethics in the Union Theological Seminary, New York, Dr. Ward had held the post of Chairman of the American Civil Liberties Union for twenty years. His latest book is "The Soviet Spirit" which has sold many copies.

The S.L.C. urges all its members and others to attend the meeting which is sponsored jointly by the S.L.C., the Student Christian Movement and Hillel.

These references can be obtained in pamphlet form at the Victory Bookshop, 265 St. Catherine St. W.—some of them are contained in the "Handbook of Marxism" ed. by E. Burns, available at Redpath Library.

The meeting is open to all interested students.

HANDICRAFTS LESSONS

There will be no leatherwork classes this Tuesday night, as the instructor is out of town. Plastics and weaving will be held as usual. Any girls who took any of the courses last term are entitled to continue this term. Leatherwork will be held next week on Tuesday as usual.

LABOR PROGRESSIVE PARTY CLUB

The first in a series of lunch hour discussions on current events will take place today, at 1 p.m., in the Players' Club Room. The topic of the discussion will be, "Labor Crisis in the U.S.A." All members and friends are invited to attend. Lunches may be eaten as the discussion proceeds.

C.C.F. CLUB

At a meeting yesterday the following were elected as C.C.F. Executive:

President, Cranford Pratt; Study Group Chairman, Elizabeth Bayard; Vice-President, Leo Zakaria; Secretary, Peter Scott; Treasurer, Don Patterson; Parliamentary Leader, John A. MacDonald; Social Convener, Betty Ann Henley; Publicity Director, Al Glassman.

LIBERAL CLUB

The Liberal Club will hold a caucus today to approve the Liberal Amendment to the Progressive Conservative Resolution on a National Labor Code. This will be held in the Union Board Room at 2 p.m.

Beforehand the special committee on the Labor Code will draw up the amendment in final form in the Union at 12.30.

McGILL CAMERA CLUB

Mr. William Thresh will address the members of the Camera Club on "Toning" of Tuesday, January 29, at 8 p.m. in the McGill Union Music Room.

All interested are cordially invited.

Notices

Found

In Biology Building, a fountain pen. Telephone WE. 6883.

Notice

Curman: Qualitative Chemical Analysis for sale. Phone BE. 1623.

Notice

Will tutor first year student in Maths and/or Physics, during noon hours or other convenient times. Call BE. 1623.

INTRAMURAL—p. 3

tions are Engineering 2s, Med 2s, and Science 3 and 4. However, quite a number of games still remain and if early play is any indication, upsets will be numerous.

In hockey, a snag was encountered yesterday. The Science squad had a mixup in its schedule and didn't show up for the scheduled game with the Plumbers. The second game which was an interclass affair was also called off because of the snow.

VOLLEYBALL RENEWED

Volleyball had an off-day yesterday but play commences anew tomorrow as two games are scheduled. Off to a dismal start, the interest in volleyball has picked up till some teams must limit their size. Arts and Science 3 and 4 has named Solomon, Bloomfield, Heller, Cherny, Sirola, Shepperd and Golden as their official team. This gives the others from those years an opportunity to choose a second team for league play.

RED & WHITE REVUE

PUBLICITY

There will be a meeting of the publicity committee this afternoon Tues. 5-6.30 in the music room of the Union. Any students interested who did not attend the previous meeting are welcome.

DR. VIVIAN—p. 1

attempting to establish such a service.

The study of these problems and the actual prevention and control of disease is the purpose of the newly-instituted Department of Health and Social Medicine and one aspect of this field will be discussed by Dr. Vivian tomorrow evening.

The meeting will be chaired by Dr. James and is open to the general public. Women and medical students should be especially interested in Dr. Vivian's address, for his topic is one of especial import to them and he is especially well-qualified to discuss it.

as commerce. Thus, their interests differed and did not clash. Instead, the two countries complemented each other; and, as Professor Karpovich remarked, "Russia supplied England with many naval and other raw materials, while England was almost the sole source of manufactured goods to Russia."

But with the eighteenth century came what Professor Karpovich referred to as "a period of rivalry and enmity" during which Russia expanded to the Balkans and central Europe, and began an advance against Turkey. These facts, Professor Karpovich noted, were extremely perturbing to the English. But before anything explosive could occur, the Russians and English were forcibly thrown together by a common enemy—Napoleon.

The speaker then summed up the views of both countries towards each other: England fearing Russia's intentions of expanding even to India, despite Russia's protestations to the contrary; and Russia's indignation at meeting British opposition everywhere she turned. This period was indeed, as Professor Karpovich declared, "a mutual exchange of name calling."

The rise of the German Empire towards the end of the nineteenth century threatened both England and Russia, and the Anglo-Russian Entente was formed in 1907 which Professor Karpovich pointed out had a great effect on European relations, although originally it was only intended to settle near-eastern problems. Under this alliance world War I was fought.

In the post-war period, the Russian menace in its old form was no longer in existence, but soon it arose in a new form through the revolution.

Professor Karpovich traced this new menace to the Communist's suspicion of the English capitalism, and the desire to weaken England by striking at her Empire. This period lasted until the Second World War, and left what the speaker referred to as "An inheritance of mutual distrust and suspicion."

However, in 1942 another alliance between England and Russia was formed, which Professor Karpovich emphasized, was not merely a military alliance, but was to last for 20 years;—i.e. during peace.

Concluding his address, Professor Karpovich warned that with the German menace eliminated, old questions may again come to the foreground; but he had great hope in the new international developments, and believed that with co-operation and foresight on the part of both England and Russia, peaceful relationship between the two will continue.

HOOPSTERS—p. 3

game against Y.M.H.A., the McGill aggregation has improved steadily till last Saturday, when they hit their peak. Showing split-second timing precision, the Redmen never looked better. Greenburg and Roth amazed onlookers with their deadly scoring eyes while Hoyle and Finlay turned in outstanding two-way games at guard.

All through the year, Captain Davidson has been playing a stellar brand of ball. Lanky Mark Goodwin has been the McGill ace-in-the-hole and his ability to snare the rebounds will prove a valuable asset to the home quintet.

QUEEN'S HOLDS TROPHY

The Intercollegiate trophy rests

EVENTS APPROVED BY THE DATES COMMITTEE OF THE STUDENTS' EXECUTIVE COUNCIL, JANUARY

- 23-Feb. 1: Charity Week, Students' Executive Council.
- 28: Meeting, Union Ballroom, Student Vets' Society, 5 p.m.
- 28: Meeting, Union Music Room, LPP Club, 8 p.m.
- 29: Address, Union Ballroom, SCM, SLC, Hillel.
- 30: Mock Parliament, Union Ballroom, Debating Union.
- 30: Meeting, Union Readingroom, Duplicate Bridge Club.
- 31: Discussion, Union Music Room, LPP Club.

FEBRUARY

- 1: Formal Dance, Gymnasium, Arts & Science and Commerce Undergraduate Societies, 10 p.m.
- 1: Hockey, Forum, Students' Athletic Council, 8:30 p.m.
- 2: Basketball, Gymnasium, Students' Athletic Council.
- 6: Meeting, Union Ballroom, Duplicate Bridge Club.
- 7: Business Meeting, Union Grillroom, Army Course Association.
- 8: Informal Dance, Union Grillroom, Education '46.
- 8: Skating Party and Dance, Strathcona Hall, Strathcona Hall House Committee.
- 8: Sleigh Ride and Dance, Gymnasium, Physical Education School.
- 8: Basketball, Gymnasium, Students' Athletic Council.
- 9: Dance, Union Grillroom, LPP Club.
- 9: Dance COTC Mess, Army Course Association.
- 12: Films, Moyse Hall, Film Society.
- 14, 15, 16: Production, Players' Club.
- 18: Formal Dance, Gymnasium, Engineering Undergraduate Society.
- 19: Coed Coast, Park Toboggan and Ski Club, MWSAA.
- 20: Meeting, Union Ballroom, Duplicate Bridge Club.
- 22: Concert, R.V.C. Gymnasium, Music Committee.
- 22: Formal Dance, Gymnasium, Medical Undergraduate Society.
- 23: Basketball, Gymnasium, Students' Athletic Council.
- 26: Films, Moyse Hall, Film Society.
- 27: Mock Parliament, Union Ballroom, Debating Union.
- 27: Meeting, Union Reading Room, Duplicate Bridge Club.

MARCH

- 1: Informal Dance, Union Ballroom, Physiotherapy Society.
- 1, 2: Squash Tournament, Gymnasium, Students' Athletic Council.
- 1: Toboggan Party and Dance, Mount Royal Park Slide, McGill Outing Club.
- 2: Formal Dance, Royal Victoria College, President Students' Society.
- 13: Meeting, Union Ballroom, Duplicate Bridge Club.
- 13, 14, 15, 16: Red and White Revue, Moyse Hall, Students' Executive Council.
- 20: Meeting, Union Ballroom, Duplicate Bridge Club.
- 27: Meeting, Union Ballroom, Duplicate Bridge Club.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club will meet on Sunday, February 3, 10 a.m., at the Convent of the Sacred Heart. Another of the very popular quiz programs has been planned. The annual retreat of the Newman Club will begin on Thursday evening, February 7, at 7.30. Fr. J. Higgins of the Capucians will be the retreat-master. Further details on the retreat will be given out at the meeting.

ROBINTEX

SUITINGS

ARE STILL IN SHORT SUPPLY—BUT—WELL WORTH WAITING FOR
ASK YOUR TAILOR FOR ROBINTEX
GUARANTEED BRITISH MANUFACTURE

NOTICE

Meeting of Students' Society

in

McGill Union

Thursday, February 7th

5.15 P.M.

To discuss amendments and sub-amendments to the Society Constitution